Huge Selection of property's across the US, great customer service and the local agents are much more responsive then traditional CRE agents. The tools make property evaluation 10x easier

I registered to become a Realmo Local Agent

I registered to become a Realmo local agent. The process was easy and very complete. They sent me my own agent dashboard to use for the leads I get daily from them and I can use it with my own internal leads as well.

I haven't seen any other site with some...

I haven't seen any other site with some many listings as Realmo has. All the other sites have much fewer listings. They listings alerts are very quick, so I don't need to check new listings every day. I wish they offered more internal pictures.

Got several calls on my properties...

Got several calls on my properties through Realmo, so thanks for that. Decided to upload more of my listings there - seems like a good way to get extra exposure.

Thumbs up for the option to import listings by link, it's convenient and saves time. The only thing is that sometimes my listings are already on the site (sometimes even twice), even though I didn't upload them. This can be a bit confusing.

Listed SOLD sites as For Sale

This site listed a lot of our older, already sold & no longer listed anywhere for sale, past listings on it as "For Sale" with our contact information. Sites we sold a year or more ago. I think this is misleading & listing our contact info without our consent is wrong. I would not rely on this website for accurate, up-to-date information.

Thank you for your feedback, and we're sorry to hear about your experience.

Realmo aggregates the most comprehensive commercial real estate database in the US, collecting listings from hundreds of sources. While this allows us to offer broad market visibility, it can sometimes result in outdated listings remaining visible. We understand how frustrating this can be.

At the moment, we are actively working on improving our systems and processes to better detect and eliminate outdated or inaccurate listings. If you can share specific listings, please reach out to us at marketing@realmo.com - we'll remove any outdated information. We appreciate you bringing this to our attention.

ZERO STARS JEN KOSAR

realmo.com brokers jennifer-kosar-35878

I had a very bad experience working with Jennifer Kosar of ERA One. After purchasing the home, I learned that the county was in the middle of a property value reassessment -- something Jennifer never disclosed during the buying process. This has had a direct financial impact on me, and its information any responsible realtor should make sure their client is aware of. Also, the condition of the home was misrepresented by the seller and Jennifer Kosar. Several issues that were minimized or glossed over have turned into costly repairs.

Because I lived two hours away, I relied on Jennifer to be my long-distance eyes and ears. I expected honesty, thoroughness and transparency, and unfortunately that's not what I received. For anyone who finds themselves working with this realtor make sure you watch your back, verify everything she tells you, check her references and stay aware of what she may be doing behind the scenes. Based on my experience, I cannot recommend. Buyers deserve full disclosure and an advocate/realtor they can trust. Jennifer Kosar is not that realtor.

Realmo has no affiliation with Jennifer Kosar and we never even heard of that name. This review is about another business.

Finally someone launched AI search

Finally someone launched AI search. It is so time consuming to search properties using old methods of sorting as other site work. Great job guys!

They have an enormous amount of info about CRE properties without requiring expensive memberships.

They had about 50 listed properties in...

They had about 50 listed properties in the Atlanta or Metro areas. I wrote down about 10 of them. I was going to go check out each of the sites I chose, but before that, I googled them and to my surprise, all of them except one said not for sale or not for rent. Thank goodness I did that because I would've been making blank trips. There was only one I went to check out and couldn't find it at all!! So disappointed!!!

Thank you for using Realmo. It is important to remember that not all properties shown on the website are for Sale or for Lease. Listings are clearly shown and always have contact information of listing agents. A portion of a website shows information about properties that are off-market and not currently listed. It seems to us that your frustration comes from misidentifying properties that are not currently listed as listings.

This website is a disaster

This website is a disaster. Features don't work, navigation is broken, and an account was somehow created for me without my input. None of the buttons respond, including the cancellation option. The interface is confusing and poorly formatted. I would not recommend this site to anyone.

Cut my search time in half

I like how the matching works. It feels like it understands what I'm looking for instead of showing random stuff. Cut my search time by half, and now I get regular relevant notifications when new deals pop up.

Waste of time at 3108 Adora teal way

Waste of time at 3108 Adora teal way. Wife told agent what business I run. After stopping my day and driving 1.5 hours to the warehouse I was informed they wouldn't for a business like mine. Big waste of time, won't bother with this agent again.

This review is about an interaction between a reviewer and their broker. Realmo is not a broker. We simply connect sellers with buyers and agents. This review appears to describe the actions of a broker representing a seller, which are outside the services provided by Realmo.

Impressive and very helpful

Pretty impressive Location analytics tool. it's very hard to find a tenant these days, so it helps to know local demand and potential growth markers. I gave it a try and will see how it turns out. Other companies charge a ton of money to access this kind of information.

Has good tools but isn't always clear

Realmo has some good tools, but not always clear how to use them. I spent time looking for answers, wish there was a FAQ with clear instructions. Mobile version is hard to navigate. Otherwise, there is a ton of useful information.

Just getting started with realmo

This site has so much ai stuff in the free plan, but the platform still needs some polishing in navigation. But I guess with this amount of data, it is hard to do
